

THE REFERENDUM IS DEAD

Campbell Russell Surrenders and Credits His Defeat to The Energy of Ada Citizens.

Guthrie, Ok., June 10.—There will be no referendum on bills passed by the school at Ada, the Girls' Industrial School at Chickasha and a branch of the Oklahoma Preparatory University at Claremore. Senator Campbell Russell of Muskogee County who circulated petitions against the institutions, figured the number of signatures last night and found himself about two thousand short of the required number. He worked forty days and gathered something over ten thousand names. Before leaving for home this morning, Senator Russell announced that he had failed.

ATTORNEY GENERAL CALLS RAILROAD OFFICERS INTO CONFERENCE.

Frisco Gets Extension of Time to Answer Ouster Suit.

Guthrie, Okla., June 10.—A conference between representatives of the railroads in Oklahoma and Attorney General and State Enforcement Attorney Caldwell may be called soon to settle peacefully on a plan by which no more intoxicating liquors will be shipped and delivered by the roads to parties in Oklahoma holding federal licenses to sell liquor.

Caldwell last week sent a list of all persons in Oklahoma who have federal license to sell intoxicating liquors. A prima facie evidence of intent to violate the state prohibitory laws) to the railroads and also to the legal departments of the railroads, warning them that they would be enjoined in the United States supreme court from such delivery.

Replies have been received from the Rock Island, Kansas City Southern and other lines, indicating a desire to co-operate with the state in ceasing shipments of liquors to persons who have taken out federal licenses and stating that the whiskey shipment is not a desirable freight anyhow.

Attorney-General West has prepared the papers necessary to immediately enjoin the railroads to prevent shipments to owners of federal licenses and also to settle the much disputed question as to when an interstate shipment was ended, but announced today suit would not be filed until fall as the supreme court had adjourned until then.

Attorney General West was today granted an extension of 40 days making total of 60, for preparing an answer and cross complaint in the suit instituted by the Frisco in the United States circuit courts enjoining Acting Secretary of State Leo Meyer from revoking the Frisco charter. The Frisco was charged with violating the McCalla act forbidding corporations doing business in the state from claiming domicile outside

OLD CONFEDERATES CHEER GRANT

REUNION AT AN END

Strains of "Dixie" Merged With Tramp of Veterans in Parade.

Memphis, Tenn., June 10.—A frenzied demonstration of welcome by the men in grey for the son of the man who defeated them, marked the final scene of the ninth annual reunion of the United Confederate veterans today. It took place during the parade.

In the reviewing stand stood General Frederick Dent Grant of the United States army. A cavalry division approached and its commanding officer, old and grizzled, peered steadily at General Grant a moment. Then he turned in his saddle and yelled.

"Come on, you kids. Has General Grant come to life again in his son?"

Tears in Grant's Eyes.

With one of the old time "rebel yells," the division charged upon the stands and jostled one another for an opportunity to shake the hand of the son of their old time enemy.

From that moment, every gray clad veteran who could reach the stand rushed up to shake hands with General Grant.

The stocky army officers eyes filled with tears and his shoulders shook with emotion and he murmured:

"God bless you all, boys. God bless you."

The reunion ended with the parade. The veterans were clad in rough gray homespun, such as they wore in the sixties, and carried rusty rifles with which they had defended what they believed to be right. It was probably the last big parade in which many of them will participate.

March to Tune of "Dixie."

The heat was intense and the commanders of divisions directed that the older and more feeble members of their divisions should drop out, but officers were compelled to report that they could find no men old enough or feeble enough to take advantage of this indulgence.

Bands from all over the south, 25 of them, were interspersed here and there through the parade, and when steps lagged, stirring notes of "Dixie" or "My Maryland," were sufficient to send the veterans' blood coursing as it did fifty years ago.

Everywhere were flags, the stars and stripes, the stars and bars, and tattered battle flags of the states that chose Davis as president.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS.

Meet Monday and Hold Busy Session.

The commissioners met Monday and have been a busy lot ever since. Besides allowing a whole mountain of bills, they accepted the bridge across Boggy, two miles west of Ahlosa, built by W. B. Crowder. This bridge is in Commissioner Rinard's district. It was voted to build a sixty-foot bridge across Rock Creek, eight miles southwest of Ada in Commissioner Floyd's district. Lumber was ordered from the Butts Lumber Co. of Vanoss with which to build a bridge across Sandy near that point. A 100-foot bridge was ordered built across Blue at the site of the old bridge in Commissioner Short's district.

Are You Interested?

All those citizens interested in the welfare of Ada and her achievements should be in Guthrie next Tuesday, June 15th, as the plans and specifications of the Ada Normal will be agreed upon and the equipment purchased. It is important that the school board here should be alert and push, as much as possible, the plan to purchase the school furniture at once, as it can be used in the south school building this year and transferred to the normal when completed.

THE STATE RESTS THEIR CASE TODAY

MANY WITNESSES IN EVIDENCE

Many Character Witnesses Testify That Lee Is a Man of Good Character.

After a number of unimportant witnesses had testified, and after Ed Johnson had finished his testimony yesterday, which corresponded verbatim with that given in the case of Dan Scribner, John Scribner, was placed on the stand as a state's witness. The balance of the afternoon was consumed in the taking of his testimony, and the court adjourned to meet at eight o'clock last evening. John Scribner was cool and composed, and answered each and every question with deliberation. His testimony evidenced that he was not thoroughly acquainted with the plot to kill Zeke Putman, but in the matter of dates as to the visits of Dan Scribner and Ed Johnson to his home, and in all minor details in which he was connected from the testimony of Ed Johnson, he corroborated Johnson from start to finish and seemed positive and deliberate in his answers to questions propounded.

The evening session last evening was consumed in the hearing of testimony of corroborative state witnesses, and at nine o'clock this morning Frank Scribner was placed on the stand. He, also, corroborated Johnson's testimony and stated that Johnson and Dan Scribner spent the remainder of the night at his home, as stated by Johnson, leaving there for Stonewall the following morning. After the testimony of one or two unimportant witnesses following Frank Scribner, the state rested their case, being about eleven o'clock this morning.

Mr. J. W. Bolen, for the defense, then made his statement to the jury, outlining what the defense expected to prove. He stated that the testimony in the defense would show that Mack Lee's mother died when Mack was 15 years of age and that his father died when he was 17, that he was the oldest of a family of five children, a native of Oklahoma and a sixteenth Chickasaw Indian by blood. That he had taken charge of the business of his parents, managed it in a successful manner and had conducted himself as a gentleman. That he was well and favorably known in his community, that he had never been involved in the courts and that this was the first crime with which he has ever been charged. That Zeke Putman had killed his brother, Clarence Lee, without cause, and, that though this could be proven, Mack Lee had never conspired to take the life of Zeke Putman, but on the other hand had refused to listen to the overtures of Ed Johnson.

He stated that the defense would prove that after Clarence Lee had been shot Ed Johnson and other associates were repelled from visiting him at the point of a gun in the hands of Putman. That Johnson had stated to Mack Lee and John Sulzer that Putman had murdered Clarence Lee in cold blood and himself should be murdered. He stated also that the defense would prove that Ed Johnson had made a proposition to Mack Lee agreeing to kill Putman and that Lee had refused point blank to consider his proposition. He further stated that the evidence would show that Johnson never paid the visits to the home of Mack Lee which he claimed he did and that on more than one occasion Lee was away from home at the time Johnson alleges that he visited him.

Mr. Bolen stated that the defense would prove that Mack Lee met Zeke Putman in a drug store at Allen after the killing of Clarence Lee, that Putman asked Lee if he would talk with him and that Lee stated that he would. They retired behind the prescription case and conversed for half an hour. Lee was armed, so the attorney stated, and could have killed Putman at that time but did not desire to do so. Defendant told

Putman, on the other hand, that he only wanted to know the truth relative to the killing of his brother, whereupon Putman responded that he had rather wait and tell the facts on the witness stand. Lee informed him that he had employed two firms of lawyers to prosecute the case, and the attorneys state that they can prove he did, having agreed to pay one firm $600 to prosecute Putman for the killing of his brother.

The defense alleges that the state has failed to connect Lee with the case in such manner as to secure a conviction and claim that they can prove their ground. Testimony on which they rely to do this is being taken this afternoon.

Before noon today some fifteen or twenty character witnesses were introduced in behalf of the defendant. They all testified that they knew Lee and that his reputation as a law-abiding citizen in his community was good.

The jury is paying the closest attention to the case, and though the court room is unbearably hot they are making the best of it. Those composing the jury are as follows: S. H. Alley, W. F. Harrison, B. L. Bonner, Ben King, Bud Casey, A. E. Crissan, L. F. Couper, J. J. McLeod, S. B. French, John Heath, B. Kilpatrick, R. F. Ethridge.

COMMON SENSE.

Hard times follow good times with unerring regularity and certainty; this is in perfect accordance with the rule of compensation.

In good times we should prepare ourselves, so that when hard times come we may find ourselves able to go through the troublous times.

If prosperity ran on unchecked, the ordinary, well-established business would soon be a thing of the past, for people would speculate instead of work.

When the manufacturer has his bills paid and finds a surplus in the bank, that surplus is likely to be turned into speculation. When everyone speculates values rise, and continues to rise until prices reach fictitious altitudes, and then comes about the cashing in. It so happens that the cashing in is a general movement and when this happens hard times quickly follow.

The successful business man should keep his money where it is get-at-able, and when hard times come and the prices go away down to low water mark, then he should buy. Later on prosperity will return, as sure as the sun will rise; and the things bought during the hard times will greatly increase in value.

Hard times and prosperity rotate several times in a man's business career.

Hard times are necessary to the general scheme, for with continuous prosperity business would increase
to such a momentum that there is no telling what the results would be.

In times of prosperity you must make preparations for the hard times that are sure to come. If your pumps are greater than your leaks, your craft won't sink when the storm of adversity and hard times breaks across your ship.

OUR GUTHRIE CORRESPONDENT

Guthrie, June 10.—Miss De Bernia

school at Edmond, resigned her position June 7th. No successor has been appointed, but probably will be at the meeting of the board June 15th.

Hon. E. D. Cameron, State Supt. of Public Instruction will address the county normals as follows: Cleveland county, June 23rd, at Boswell; Pittsburg county, June 24th, McAles-

The Texas Building Co. has completed their work on the Langston colored university, and it is understood that the same has been received by the board. This is one of the best and most complete negro school buildings in the world.

From everywhere comes the report that the summer schools have a larger attendance than ever before.
The Edmond school has enrolled more than six hundred for the summer term.

The laws for building the Ada normal school and other educational and charitable institutions will go into effect tomorrow. During the past two months Senator Campbell Russell, of Warner, Okla., has caused to be circulated referendum petitions for the purpose of referring these schools to a vote of the people which in effect would have put off the construction of those referred until after the next general election or special election called for that purpose.

It appears however the people are in favor of the immediate construction of these institutions as senator Russell has failed to get even the 14,000 names necessary to call a referendum. He gave up the fight yesterday and informed assistant secretary of state, Leo Meyer, that he was going back to his farm, and had utterly failed in getting the required number of signatures.

The Green Valley Irrigation Ditch retary Barrett of the Agricultural Board, plans for an irrigation ditch

The company asks for the privilege of taking nine cubic feet of water per second from the Beaver river for irrigation purposes. The application is signed by Warren Keen, Lee Brown and Blanche Brown. Under the law of 1905, the secretary of the Board of Agriculture is ex-officio state engineer, hence his duty to file such papers. The law has since been modified so that the state, instead of the secretary gets the fees.

BAILEY ACCEPTS CUMMINS PROPOSAL

AGREED TO TEXAS SENATOR.

Democrats Assert That They Will Cast Solid Vote for Income Tax.

Washington, June 10.—It is stated tonight by leading progressive republicans that Senator Bailey has accepted two of the principal features of Senator Cummins' income tax amendments, namely, levying a rate of 2 per cent instead of 5 per cent and levying a tax on the dividends of corporations, but excluding from the income tax incomes from stocks on which the corporation tax has already been exacted. With this agreement between the Senators who favor the Bailey amendment and those who favor the Cummins amendment, the income tax adherents will strive to force a direct vote tomorrow.

The time for voting on the income tax amendment was set for this afternoon, but conferences were in progress during the afternoon between democrats and republican supporters of the measure, and Senator Bailey asked unanimous consent to let the matter go over until tomorrow, to which Senator Aldrich assented. The democrats confidently assert that they will be able to cast the full democratic vote for the proposition, but the element of uncertainty lies in the republican support. The supporters of the income tax provision are not claiming a victory, but rather assert that their chance of winning is as good as their chance of losing. Senator Aldrich says that if the question came to a direct vote now the income tax provision would be defeated by a narrow margin. He still insists that that margin would be at least three votes.

It does not follow, however, that because the income tax vote is set for tomorrow that the vote will be squarely for or against adopting an income tax amendment. In fact, Senator Aldrich refused to agree in advance that the vote which is to be taken shall be squarely on the question of accepting or rejecting such an amendment. It is generally believed that he will seek to delay action and gradually shelve the proposition without fastening upon his party the responsibility for defeating a piece of legislation which appears to have a very wide approval among the people.

In the meantime little has been heard of the Aldrich proposal to substitute for the income tax a tax on the net earnings of corporations.
A canvass of the Senate does not bear out Senator Aldrich's positive assertion that he could muster a majority for the corporation tax, though the resourcefulness of the Rhode Island senator may yet bring results in that direction if he can stave off a vote on the income tax a while longer.

BILLS WHICH GO INTO EFFECT TODAY

MOUS TAX FERRET LAW.

Several Minor Labor Laws Are Also Included in the List.

Among several other state laws going into effect today is the one amending the famous tax ferret law which caused men affected by the law to the extent of thousands of dollars, to go into their pockets and subscribe liberally to a fund to be used in a legal fight on its provisions.

Lawyers of Oklahoma City have expressed the opinion that the amendment referred to will have the effect of nullifying the original law,
and that back taxes as a consequence can not be collected upon
assessments made before statehood.

Over two-thirds of the bills passed by the second Oklahoma legislature become effective tomorrow.
There were 120 bills not carrying emergency clauses, and which accordingly do not become laws until 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Among the new laws which come
into effect tomorrow are:

The Keyes fish and game law,
which revolutionizes the game laws of the state. The bill amending the tax ferret law of the state, so that no back taxes unpaid before statehood can be collected. The new law also reduces the compensation of the tax ferret to 15 per cent of the collection; the Stafford juvenile court law, which establishes courts for delinquent children in connection with county courts in each county and providing for appointment of probation officers; a law reducing the gross production tax on coal from 2 to 1-2 per cent, making the tax the same as that on oil.

Among the other laws that take effect now are several important ones affecting labor; including a law giving laborers in mines a lien on all property of the mining company for unpaid wages; requiring railroads to build sheds at division points for the protection of mechanics working in the yards during storms; creating an agency, to prohibit payment of wages in script or in anything except legal tender of the United States, prohibiting the employment of children in shops and factories, and amending
the eight-hour law.

Laws affecting education are those repealing the county high-school law, permitting the establishment of county demonstration farms in each county; appropriating $60,000 for secondary schools of agriculture in the third fourth and fifth supreme court districts; authorizing boards of education to erect two or more school houses; in the same district requiring the teaching of agriculture, horticulture, stock feeding and domestic science in the schools, appropriating $20,000 for a secondary school of agriculture in the Panhandle district of Oklahoma; establishing a normal school at Ada; school for the feeble-minded at Enid; industrial school for girls at Claremore, and state school for deaf at Sulphur.

To Remove Commissioner.

Lawton, Ok., June 10.—The jury in the case against W. E. McGurren, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, returned a verdict of

ment, that of having received a duplicate warrant for $120.

The case was given to the jury at 6 o'clock last evening. At 11:30 o'clock this morning they came into court with their report, signed by nine jurors. The other three re-

C. M. Myers, the special judge, will prepare a judgment, removing Mr.
McGurren from office. Mr. McGur-ren's attorneys announce their intention of appealing the case to the

EDWARD EVERETT HALE PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME.

Men Prominent in All Walks of Life
Send Messages of Condolence.

Boston, Mass., June 10.—The morning light was breaking as Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D.D., chaplain of the United States Senate, Unitarian divine, philanthropist, author, journalist and lover of peace, breathed his last tonight in his home in Roxbury (Boston.) At the bedside were his wife, his daughter, Miss Ellen D.
Hale, and his son, Charles L. Hale.
Two sons, Arthur Hale of Washington and Prof. Edward Everett Hale Jr., of Union College, returned home this evening. Tomorrow, it is expected, partial arrangements for the funeral on Sunday, in the South Congregation church, of which Dr. Hale was the pastor emeritus, will be announced.

On his return from Washington a few days ago it was reported that
Dr. Hale was not in good health, but he soon regained his activities and until Tuesday attend meetings and received friends. Last night, however, he showed signs of distress
and rapidly weakening, passed peacefully away in the early hours of the morning.

It seemed today as if the whole country joined in mourning the death of Dr. Hale. Messages expressing sorrow and esteem poured into the Hale household, one of the first being from the president and Mrs. Taft. As an author Dr. Hale's fame rests on his short stories, such as "The Man Without a Country." As an instigator of the social uplift, the work of the two organizations, the Lend a Hand Clubs and the King's Daughters, will always add to his renown; as a minister and pastor, his half century in the pulpit of the South Congregational church and his preaching in many other churches were prolific of wise spiritual inspiration, while as a historian his writings
have become authoritative.

It was Dr. Hale who, twenty years before its consummation, proposed a world-wide peace tribunal; it was
Dr. Hale who upheld Garrison and Phillips in their anti-slavery work; it was Dr. Hale whose benevolence brought comfort to the sick and wounded soldiers on the battlefields
of the Civil war as a member of the Sanitary Commission and it was Dr.
Hale who gave to the world the famous stanza:

"Look up, and not down;
Look forward, not back;
Look out, and not in;
Lend a hand."

SHRINERS' TEMPLE "ARRESTED."

Haled Before Police Judge of Louisville, Who Assesses Happy "Punishment."

Louisville, Ky., June 10.—Not the least conspicuous of the gaily garbed nobles of the Mystic Shrine who are holding their thirty-fifth annual session in this city has been the famous Lulu Temple of Philadelphia. Most of the temples have done bizarre things and frolicked in ways that would have rattled the brain of the most ingenious college boy, but Lulu managed to get arrested in a body yesterday and as speedily released.

Under the leadership of Dr. A. Howard Thomas, Lulu in natty white uniforms marched in police court at adjournment time and began playing "My Old Kentucky Home," in a way to lift the roof of the venerable city hall. Judge Wheeler McGee sat up sharply and then seeing who the offenders were, he had them all arrested. They were led before his honor who said:

"I find you guilty and condemn you to imprisonment in the heart of Louisville and in the dungeon of our affections forever."

Lulu declared from horns, trombones and fifes that Judge McGee was a "jolly good fellow," departed curiously uplifted.

Memphis, Tenn., June 10.—A bronze tablet, placed on the residence occupied by Jefferson Davis during the years 1875 to 1878, was unveiled by Miss Lucy White Hayes, granddaughter of the President of the Confederacy, yesterday. The tablet was the gift of the Tyler chapter of the Confederate Dames. Miss Ella Guy, a member of the Tyler chapter, made the presentation speech and Mayor James Malone responded accepting the tablet in the name of the city. An address was also delivered by General Clement Evans, commander-in-chief of the United Confederate Veterans. Appropriate music was furnished by a number of Confederate choirs in attendance upon the reunion.

BANKER PREDICTS A GOOD BUSINESS YEAR

TWO FINANCIAL EXTREMES HAVE PREVAILED IN EIGHTEEN MONTHS.

Guthrie, Ok., June 10.—That financial conditions are conducive to a good business year is the opinion of Robert Sohlberg, cashier of the Guthrie National Bank, in a statement on banking matters issued locally yesterday. During the last eighteen months, he says, the situation has passed from one extreme to another. While in January, 1908, currency was scarce, forcing institutions to resort to issuance of script, within the year the supply has increased until a plethora of unemployed capital is found in every monetary center.

"As the interest rate always depends upon the supply of available money," Mr. Sohlberg says, "the interest rate has gone to the lowest point during recent years, and yet even with this low interest rate the banks are carrying large quantities of currency in their vaults and on deposit in reserve banks."

What is true of the country at large is also applicable to the institutions of the Southwest. Mr. Sohlberg continues:

"The healthy mien between the two extremes which have existed in the monetary market is now being awaited by all people who are interested in the welfare of the country. An adjustment of monetary affairs is being earnestly sought by all business and banking interests. Congress has appointed a monetary commission, which is working zealously on the situation. It is collecting data from various sources in order to reach a conclusion as to the proper legislation which should be passed. The influence of this commission is being felt everywhere. All financial legislation is being referred to it. An example of the commission's activity occurred when on the 28th day of April, 1909, reports were called for by the Controller of the Currency and the State Banking Departments of every State in the union. This meant that for the first time in the history of the United States every bank and trust company made sworn statements on the same day.

"The prospect of an abundant harvest is also having its influence upon the financial situation. The effects of 'winter killing' which is the largest element of determining the volume of the agricultural products of the country are known at the present time. The experience of bankers throughout the country during the past year affords the assurance that August will bring a large demand for ready funds in order to move the crop now maturing in the fields of the great West and South. This demand will continue strong until the 1st of January at least and in anticipation of this demand the money market is growing stronger and more certain.

"When all things are carefully weighed in connection with the financial situation there is every prospect of a prompt return to the good times which this country has and with the exception of the recent depression for the last twelve years. There is every prospect of unusually good prices for farm products and fair wages for labor. A disposition is shown on the part of all business men to act upon the optimistic side of the situation and do their part in creating active business conditions."

GAMBLERS ARE ROBBED.

Covered With Guns and Forced to Surrender Their Money.

Sapulpa, Okla., June 10.—For the second time in two weeks a gambling room was entered by robbers with drawn revolvers here Tuesday night and $550 in cash was the reward for their labor and nerve.

J. H. Bothwell and Frank Mitchell, well-known local characters are alleged to have entered the gambling room of the Buffalo hotel, shortly before midnight and bracing the proprietor and his guests with revolvers, they compelled all to hand over their money.

Before taking the money they stepped to the bar and treated the house, and then invited the proprietor of the place to treat. He was obliging and ordered up the drinks with pleasure and alacrity.

After leaving the gambling room, the men mounted horses and made their escape on horseback, but were arrested on a train at Tulsa, a few hours later, with the greater portion of the stolen money in their possession.

THOROUGHBRED RACE MEET.

Will Commence at Oklahoma City Next Week and Last Fifteen Days.

The thoroughbred race meeting to last fifteen days will commence next Tuesday, June 15, with seven first class events, the most important of which will be the Oklahoma Derby for a purse of $1,000. Thirty-nine classy horses have been entered in this race and followers of the turf will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the greatest Derby events pulled off in the southwest.

The meet will be held under the auspices of the Texas Thoroughbred Racing Circuit and this assures the success of the meet. Stalls for more than 350 horses have been assigned. A new saddling paddock has been built under the grand stand at the State Fair grounds and horsemen declare it one of the most modern seen at any track.

P. A. Brady of St. Louis has been secured as judge while O. W. Boardman of St. Louis will officiate as clerk. Arthur McKnight of Kansas City will officiate as starter and Milt S. Mooney of Houston will be the official programmer. These officials know every inch of the racing game and under their direction the summer meet will undoubtedly prove the most successful ever attempted in this state.

One of the features of the first week will be a "Hoo Hoo" handicap for two year olds of June 19. This race will bring together one of the best fields of two year olds and the race has been arranged especially for Oklahoma Hoo Hoos who will attend in a body on that date. Horses from the tracks at Latonia, Norfolk, Jacksonville, Houston and Ft. Worth are arriving this week and everything is now in readiness for the opening day.

There will be a state wide attendance on June 15th and for this day only tally-ho parties will be allowed to witness the races from the center field. Nearly all the boxes have been sold for the first day. This will be the greatest turf event ever held in the southwest. Races commence at 3 o'clock P. M. Double track electric car line, also asphalt automobile boulevard, direct to the grounds.

MUSKOGEE IS FILTHY.

So Says the State Sanitary Inspector of Oklahoma.

Muskogee, Okla., June 9.—State Sanitary Inspector W. J. Emery, of Oklahoma City, with headquarters in Shawnee, swooped down upon Muskogee Wednesday morning and there is widespread consternation as a result of his visit.

He closed up one local bakery, and putting a lock on its doors stuck the key into his pocket. He has made a partial report on the unsanitary conditions which he found there and which caused him to adopt such drastic measures.

"I found the conditions frightful," he said. "The restaurants are reeking with filth and swarming with flies. The city and county jails are in a deplorable condition."

He also reports that a small stream into which refuse is dumped is polluting North Muskogee, and is very dangerous to public health. The report has caused a decided sensation.

ABOUT ADVERTISING—

The Doctor Whose Patients Hang On

By Herbert Kaufman.

Out in China all things are not topsy turvy. Physicians are paid for keeping people well and when their patients fall ill their weekly salary check is stopped. The Chinese judge a medical man not by the number of years he lives, but by the length of time his clients survive.

An advertising medium must be judged in the same way. The fact that it has age to its credit isn't so important as the age of its advertising patronage. Whenever a newspaper continues to display the store talk of the same establishment year after year, it's a pretty sure sign that the merchant has made money out of that newspaper, because no publication can continue to be a losing investment to its customers over a stretch of time without the fact being discovered. And when a newspaper is able to boast of an honor roll of stores that have continued to appear in its pages for a stretch of decades it has proven its superiority as plainly as a mountain peak which rises above its fellows.

Just as a manufacturer is always eager to install his choicest stocks in a store which has earned the respect of the community, just so a retailer should be anxious to insert his name in a newspaper which has earned the respect of its readers. The manufacturer feels that he will receive a square deal from a store which has age to its credit. He can expect as much from a newspaper which is a credit to its age!

The newspaper which outlives the rest does so because it was best fitted to—it had to earn the confidence of its readers—and keep it. It had to be a better newspaper than any other, and better newspapers go to the homes of better buyers. Every bit of its circulation has the element of quality and staying power. And it is the respectable, home-loving element of every community—not the touts and the gamblers—toward which the merchant must look for his business vertebrae—he cannot find buyers unless he uses the newspaper that enters their homes. And when he does enter their homes he must not confuse the sheet that comes in the back gate with the newspaper that is delivered at the front door.

THOMAS PRYOR GORE

From Oklahoma Baptist Journal.

The life of Thos. Pryor Gore, junior Senator from Oklahoma, furnishes an unparalleled example of what a man can accomplish if he has courage and sticks to a thing until he gets there. Never before in the history of this country has a life so brilliant been manifested amid such stupendous handicaps and difficulties.

If the story of the blind senator from Oklahoma could serve no other purpose than to illustrate how a brave heart and persistent ambition can overcome even the greatest difficulties in life, it would be worth telling.

Loyal to a set purpose, maintained resolutely through twenty-five years of bitter struggle, raised this poor blind boy to a seat in the most distinguished law-making body in the world, although he sometimes lived on the verge of starvation, nothing could shake his determination to be a Senator—he stuck to it and he got there. His early life was lived in obscurity, but he had a high ambition. He could not see the world about him, but he had a smile to win it, a perseverance to compel its admiration and support.

The youth that has a set imagination that the world is against him, and that his poor start in life has irretrievably handicapped him, need only to think of the dark prospects which confronted Senator Gore, and he will take hold of life with a new grip.

Gore's young life was spent in a country school, where his marvelous oratory and sterling intellectual qualities won the admiration and loyalty of his class-mates. The shining light in all of the school debates was young Gore.

After he became totally blind, which was when he was about eleven years old, he used to get his mother and sisters to read to him; and he would sit absorbed for hours, as they read of the "Lives of Self-made Men," and plan his own campaign for recognition in the world of politics.

After completing the grammar course at his home in Mississippi, Gore entered the Cumberland University at Lebanon, Tenn., for a course in law.

Although severely handicapped, Mr. Gore graduated with flying colors from the law department of the Cumberland University, when he was twenty-two years of age. After devoting himself diligently to the study of law at that place for four years, he moved to Texas and a few years later to Lawton, Oklahoma, his present home.

Mr. Gore's rise in the world was rapid and thorough after he struck Oklahoma. He practiced law and served one term in the Territorial senate, being recognized by his colleagues while there as a very capable lawyer. He was nominated for the United States Senate in the State primary by an overwhelming plurality and was elected Senator, taking his seat December 11, 1907. When Mr. Gore took his seat he was the youngest Senator in Congress, being but 37 years old.

Mr. Gore is essentially a man of the people. He is the farmer's friend and during his term in the Senate he has been tireless in his efforts to secure better conditions and laws for the farmers and working men of his State. He is an optimist of the Socrates school. He believes there are no existent conditions—however bad or good—that cannot be elevated through the proper application of brain matter. And Senator Gore has been conscientiously applying his gray matter to the uplift of the farmers of his State. And, with a view to maintaining or bettering the social status of the office holders in Oklahoma, Mr. Gore has steadfastly refused to confirm the nomination of anyone for office in his state whose integrity, moral standing, and capability are not absolutely beyond question.

Senator Gore now enjoys ease and comfort in life in contrast to the hard knocks he encountered in his earlier life. He sits in his luxurious office in the magnificent senate building, his smooth, smiling face radiant with optimism and power.

"There's more to be learned from failure than successes," he said to the author. "Success is so often the result of accident. A fixed and unalterable purpose pursued under all circumstances, in season and out of season, with no shadow of turning, is the best motive power a man can have."

Mr. Gore's fine face assumed a resolute expression, which told as much as words, as he said:

"In my twenty-seven years of darkness I have learned that the dynamics of the human will can overcome any difficulty. I've had to make the minimum of power serve the maximum of weight. A man must aim at a high and splendid mark. The worst he can do is to fail. If he fails it is seventy-five per cent his fault."

And this philosophy coming from the source it does, carries tremendous weight. It carries the reasoning power of a mind that is remarkable in its repentiveness and inner workings. It is the stored up optimism and soul wanderings of a personality that, shut off from the rest of the world and denied its inherent privileges, watered and nurtured itself and thrived in the radiance of its own propulsion.

The life of Senator Gore stands out among those of great men who have persevered and stood by their ambitions through all phases of adversity, and his nobleness of purpose and character is best measured by the unequal fight he waged against handicaps.

COMFORTING WORDS

Many an Ada Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a bad back removed; to be entirely free from annoying, dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful. To tell how this great change can be brought about will prove comforting words to hundreds of Ada readers.

E. M. Allen, carpenter, Tenth St., Holdenville, Okla., says: "I do not know how to express my gratitude to Doan's Kidney Pills for the relief they have given me. Up to a few months ago I suffered to quite an extent from weak kidneys. My joints became so lame that I could hardly move about and often I woke at night finding myself in such a stiffened condition that I had to have assistance to turn. There was a dull, heavy ache directly over my kidneys and also rheumatic twinges which darted through my body. The kidney secretions passed with a scalding sensation and were very unnatural. After other kidney remedies had failed to have any effect upon my case, Doan's Kidney Pills came to my aid. The first few doses relieved me and a short continued use brought about a complete cure."

Frisco Gets Extension of Time to Answer Ouster Suit.

Guthrie, Okla., June 10.—A conference between representatives of the railroads in Oklahoma and Attorney General and State Enforcement Attorney Caldwell may be called soon to settle peacefully on a plan by which no more intoxicating liquors will be shipped and delivered by the roads to parties in Oklahoma holding federal licenses to sell liquor. Caldwell last week sent a list of all persons in Oklahoma who have federal license to sell intoxicating liquors (prima facie evidence of intent to violate the state prohibitory laws) to the railroads and also to the legal departments of the railroads, warning them that they would be enjoined in the United States supreme court from such delivery. Replies have been received from the Rock Island, Kansas City Southern and other lines, indicating a desire to co-operate with the state in ceasing shipments of liquor. Persons who have taken out federal licenses and stating that the whiskey shipment is not a desirable freight anyhow.

Attorney-General West has prepared the papers necessary to immediately enjoin the railroads to prevent shipments to owners of federal licenses and also to settle the much disputed question as to when an interstate shipment was ended, but announced today suit would not be filed until fall as the supreme court had adjourned until then.

Attorney General West was today granted an extension of 40 days making a total of 60, for preparing an answer and cross complaint in the suit instituted by the Frisco in the United States circuit courts enjoining Acting Secretary of State Leo Meyer from revoking the Frisco charter. The Frisco was charged with violating the McCalla act forbidding corporations doing business in the state from claiming domicile outside

REUNION AT AN END

Strains of "Dixie" Merged With Trump of Veterans in Parade.

Memphis, Tenn., June 10.—A frenzied demonstration of welcome by the men in grey for the son of the man who defeated them, marked the final scene of the ninth annual reunion of the United Confederate veterans today. It took place during the parade. In the reviewing stand stood General Frederick Dent Grant of the United States army. A cavalry division approached and its commanding officer, old and grizzled, peered steadily at General Grant a moment. Then he turned in his saddle and yelled. "Come on, you kids. Has General Grant come to life again in his son?"

With one of the old time "rebel yells," the division charged upon the stands and jostled one another for an opportunity to shake the hand of the son of their old time enemy. From that moment, every gray clad veteran who could reach the stand rushed up to shake hands with General Grant.

The reunion ended with the parade. The veterans were clad in rough gray homespun, such as they wore in the sixties, and carried rusty rifles with which they had defended what they believed to be right. It was probably the last big parade in which many of them will participate.

The beat was intense and the commanders of divisions directed that the older and more feeble members of their divisions should drop out, but officers were compelled to report that they could find no men old enough or feeble enough to take advantage of this indulgence.

Bands from all over the south, 25 of them, were interspersed here and there through the parade, and when steps lagged, stirring notes of "Dixie" or "My Maryland," were sufficient to send the veterans' blood coursing as it did fifty years ago.

Everywhere were flags, the stars and stripes, the stars and bars, and tattered battle flags of the states that chose Davis as president.

The commissioners met Monday and have been a busy lot ever since. Besides allowing a whole mountain of bills, they accepted the bridge across Boggy, two miles west of Ahlosa, built by W. B. Crowder. This bridge is in Commissioner Rindard's district. It was voted to build a sixty-foot bridge across Rock Creek, eight miles southwest of Ada in Commissioner Floyd's district. Lumber was ordered from the Butts Lumber Co. of Vanoss with which to build a bridge across Sandy near that point. A 100-foot bridge was ordered built across Blue at the site of the old bridge in Commissioner Short's district.

Are You Interested?

All those citizens interested in the welfare of Ada and her achievements should be in Guthrie next Tuesday, June 15th, as the plans and specifications of the Ada Normal will be agreed upon and the equipment purchased. It is important that the school board there should be alert and push, as much as possible, the plan to purchase the school furniture at once, as it can be used in the south school building this year and transferred to the normal when completed.

THE STATE RESTS THEIR CASE TODAY

After a number of unimportant witnesses had testified, and after Ed Johnson had finished his testimony yesterday, which corresponded verbatim with that given in the case of Dan Scribner, John Scribner, was placed on the stand as a state's witness. The balance of the afternoon was consumed in the taking of his testimony, and the court adjourned to meet at eight o'clock last evening. John Scribner was cool and composed, and answered each and every question with deliberation. His testimony evidenced that he was not thoroughly acquainted with the plot to kill Zeke Putman, but in the matter of dates as to the visits of Dan Scribner and Ed Johnson to his home, and in all minor details in which he was connected from the testimony of Ed Johnson, he corroborated Johnson from start to finish and seemed positive and deliberate in his answers to questions propounded.

The evening session last evening was consumed in the hearing of testimony of corroborative state witnesses, and at nine o'clock this morning Frank Scribner was placed on the stand. He, also, corroborated Johnson's testimony and stated that Johnson and Dan Scribner spent the remainder of the night at his home, as stated by Johnson, leaving there for Stoneville the following morning. After the testimony of one or two unimportant witnesses following Frank Scribner, the state rested their case, being about eleven o'clock this morning.

Mr. J. W. Bolen, for the defense, then made his statement to the jury, outlining what the defense expected to prove. He stated that the testimony in the defense would show that Mack Lee's mother died when Mack was 15 years of age and that his father died when he was 17, that he was the oldest of a family of five children, a native of Oklahoma and a sixteenth Chickasaw Indian by blood. That he had taken charge of the business of his parents, managed it in a successful manner and had conducted himself as a gentleman. That he was well and favorably known in his community, that he had never been involved in the courts and that this was the first crime with which he has ever been charged. That Zeke Putman had killed his brother, Clarence Lee, without cause, and that though this could be proven, Mack Lee had never conspired to take the life of Zeke Putman, but on the other hand had refused to listen to the overtures of Ed Johnson.

He stated that the defense would prove that after Clarence Lee had been shot Ed Johnson and other associates were repelled from visiting him at the point of a gun in the hands of Putman. That Johnson had stated that Putman had murdered Clarence Lee in cold blood and himself should be murdered. He stated also that the defense would prove that Ed Johnson had made a proposition to Mack Lee agreeing to kill Putman and that Lee had refused point blank to consider his proposition. He further stated that the evidence would show that Johnson never paid the visits to the home of Mack Lee which he claimed he did and that on more than one occasion Lee was away from home at the time Johnson alleges that he visited him.

Mr. Bolen stated that the defense would prove that Mack Lee met Zeke Putman in a drug store at Allen after the killing of Clarence Lee, that Putman asked Lee if he would talk with him and that Lee stated that he would. They retired behind the prescription case and conversed for half an hour. Lee was armed, so the attorney stated, and could have killed Putman at that time but did not desire to do so. Defendant told

Putman, on the other hand, that he only wanted to know the truth relative to the killing of his brother, whereupon Putman responded that he had rather wait and tell the facts on the witness stand. Lee informed him that he had employed two firms of lawyers to prosecute the case; and the attorneys state that they can prove he did, having agreed to pay one firm $600 to prosecute Putman for the killing of his brother. The defense alleges that the state has failed to connect Lee with the case in such manner as to secure a conviction and claim that they can prove their ground. Testimony on which they rely to do this is being taken this afternoon.

Before noon today some fifteen or twenty character witnesses were introduced in behalf of the defendant. They all testified that they knew Lee and that his reputation as a law-abiding citizen in his community was good.

are making the best of it. Those composing the jury are as follows: S. H. Alley, W. F. Harrison, B. L. Bonnar, Ben King, Bud Casey, A. E. Crusan, L. F. Cooper, J. J. McLeod, S. B. French, John Heath, B. Kilpatrick, R. P. Eldridge.

Hard times follow good times with unerring regularity and certainty; this is in perfect accordance with the rule of compensation.

In good times we should prepare ourselves, so that when hard times come we may find ourselves able to go through the troubled times.

If prosperity ran on unchecked, the ordinary, well-established business would soon be a thing of the past, for people would speculate instead of work.

When the manufacturer has his bills paid and finds a surplus in the bank, that surplus is likely to be turned into speculation. When everyone speculates values rise, and continue to rise until prices reach fictitious altitudes, and then comes about the crashing in. It so happens that the crashing in is a general movement and when this happens hard times quickly follow.

The successful business man should keep his money where it is gettable, and when hard times come and the prices go away down to low water mark, then he should buy. Later on prosperity will return, as sure as the sun will rise, and the things bought during the hard times will greatly increase in value.

Hard times and prosperity rotate several times in a man's business career.

Hard times are necessary to the general scheme for with continuous prosperity business would increase to such a momentum that there is no telling what the results would be.

In times of prosperity you must make preparations for the hard times that are sure to come. If your pumps are greater than your leaks your craft won't sink when the storm of adversity and hard times breaks across your ship.

OUR GUTHRIE CORRESPONDENT

Guthrie, June 10.—Miss De Bernia, critic teacher at the Central Normal school at Edmond, resigned her position June 7th. No successor has been appointed, but probably will be at the meeting of the board June 15th.

Hon. E. D. Cameron, State Supt. of Public Instruction will address the county normals as follows: Cleveland county June 22nd, at Norman; Choctaw county, June 23rd, at Dawson; Pittsburg county, June 24th, McAlester.

The Texas Building Co. has completed their work on the Langston colored university, and it is understood that the same has been received by the board. This is one of the best and most complete negro school buildings in the world.

From everywhere comes the report that the summer schools have a larger attendance than ever before. The Edmond school has enrolled more than six hundred for the summer term.

The laws for building the Ada normal school and other educational and charitable institutions will go into effect tomorrow. During the past two months Senator Campbell Russell, of Warner, Okla., has caused to be circulated referendum petitions for the purpose of referring these schools to a vote of the people which in effect would have put off the construction of those referred until after the next general election or special election called for that purpose.

It appears however the people are in favor of the immediate construction of these institutions as Senator Russell has failed to get even the 11,000 names necessary to call a referendum. He gave up the fight yesterday and informed assistant secretary of state, Leo Meyer, that he was going back to his farm, and had utterly failed in getting the required number of signatures.

The Green Valley Irrigation Ditch Co. of Guymon, Ok. filed with secretary Barrett of the Agricultural Board, plans for an irrigation ditch through sections 15 and 16 in township 13 north range 16, E. C. M. Texas county.

The company asks for the privilege of taking nine cubic feet of water per second from the Beaver river for irrigation purposes. The application is signed by Warren Keen, Lee Brown and Blanche Brown. Under the law of 1905, the secretary of the Board of Agriculture is ex-officio state engineer, hence his duty to file such papers. The law has since been modified so that the state instead of the secretary gets the fees.

BAILEY ACCEPTS CUMMINS PROPOSAL

Democrats Assert That They Will Cast Solid Vote for Income Tax.

Washington, June 10.—It is stated tonight by leading progressive republicans that Senator Bailey has accepted two of the principal features of Senator Cummins' income tax amendments, namely, levying a rate of 2 per cent instead of 3 per cent and levying a tax on the dividends of corporations, but excluding from the income tax incomes from stocks on which the corporation tax has already been exacted. With this agreement between the Senators who favor the Bailey amendment and those who favor the Cummins amendment, the income tax adherents will strive to force a direct vote tomorrow.

The time for voting on the income tax amendment was set for this afternoon, but conferences were in progress during the afternoon between democrats and republican supporters of the measure, and Senator Bailey asked unanimous consent to let the matter go over until tomorrow, to which Senator Aldrich assented. The democrats confidently assert that they will be able to cast the full democratic vote for the proposition, but the element of uncertainty lies in the republican support. The supporters of the income tax provision are not claiming a victory, but rather assert that their chance of winning is as good as their chance of losing. Senator Aldrich says that if the question came to a direct vote now the income tax provision would be defeated by a narrow margin. He still insists that that margin would be at least three votes.

It does not follow, however, that because the income tax vote is set for tomorrow that the vote will be squarely for or against adopting an income tax amendment. In fact, Senator Aldrich refused to agree in advance that the vote which is to be taken shall be squarely on the question of accepting or rejecting such an amendment. It is generally believed that he will seek to delay action and gradually shelve the proposition without fastening upon his party the responsibility for defeating a piece of legislation which appears to have a very wide approval among the people.

In the meantime little has been heard of the Aldrich proposal to substitute for the income tax a tax on the net earnings of corporations. A canvass of the Senate does not bear out Senator Aldrich's positive assertion that he could muster a majority for the corporation tax, though the resourcefulness of the Rhode Island senator may yet bring results in that direction if he can stave off a vote on the income tax a while longer.

Round the World Rates.

Seattle, June 10.—For the first time in the history of a passenger association, "Round the World" rates were taken under consideration at the meeting of the Western Transcontinental Passenger Association, representing forty railroads. After hearing a statement that a trip could now be made around the world in forty-one days, the association ordered a table of schedules for "around the world" traffic to be prepared. The rates will vary from $600 to $800 in Chicago Wednesday, Oct. 13.

BILLS WHICH GO INTO EFFECT TODAY

ONE IS LAW AMENDING THE FARMER'S TAX PERMIT LAW.

Several Minor Labor Laws Are Also Included in the List.

Among several other state laws going into effect today is the one amending the famous tax permit law which caused men affected by the law to the extent of thousands of dollars, to go into their pockets and subscribe liberally to a fund to be used in a legal fight on its provisions.

Lawyers of Oklahoma City have expressed the opinion that the amendment referred to will have the effect of nullifying the original law, and that back taxes as a consequence can not be collected upon assessments made before statehood. Over two-thirds of the bills passed by the second Oklahoma legislature become effective tomorrow. There were 120 bills not carrying emergency clauses, and which accordingly do not become laws until 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.

Among the new laws which come into effect tomorrow are:

The Keyes fish and game law, which revolutionizes the game laws of the state. The bill amending the tax permit law of the state, so that no back taxes unpaid before statehood can be collected. The new law also reduces the compensation of the tax collector to 15 per cent of the collection; the Stafford juvenile court law, which establishes courts for delinquent children in connection with county courts in each county and providing for appointment of probation officers, a law reducing the gross production tax on coal from 2 to 1-2 per cent, making the tax the same as that on oil.

Among the other laws that take effect now are several important ones affecting labor; including a law giving laborers in mines a lien on all property of the mining company for unpaid wages, requiring railroads to build sheds at division points for the protection of mechanics working in the yards during storms, creating an agency to prohibit payment of wages in script or in anything except legal tender of the United States, prohibiting the employment of children in shops and factories, and amending the eight-hour law.

Laws affecting education are those repealing the county high school law, permitting the establishment of county demonstration farms in each county; appropriating $50,000 for secondary schools of agriculture in the third fourth and fifth supreme court districts, authorizing boards of education to erect two or more school houses, in the same district requiring the teaching of agriculture, horticulture, stock feeding and domestic science in the schools, appropriating $20,000 for a secondary school of agriculture in the Panhandle district of Oklahoma, establishing a normal school at Ada, school for the feeble-minded at Enid, industrial school for girls at Claremore, and state school for deaf at Sulphur.

To Remove Commissioner.

Lawton, Ok., June 10.—The jury in the case against W. E. McGurran, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, returned a verdict of guilty upon the charge of the indictment, that of having received a duplicate warrant for $120.

The case was given to the jury at 6 o'clock last evening. At 11:30 o'clock this morning they came into court with their report, signed by nine jurors. The other three refused to concur.

C. M. Myers, the special judge, will prepare a judgment, removing Mr. McGurran from office. Mr. McGurran's attorneys announce their intention of appealing the case to the Supreme Court.

EDWARD EVERETT HALE PASSES AWAY AT HIS HOME.

Men Prominent in All Walks of Life Send Messages of Condolence.

Boston, Mass., June 10.—The morning light was breaking as Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D.D., chaplain of the United States Senate, Unitarian divine philanthropist, author, journalist and lover of peace, breathed his last tonight in his home in Roxbury (Boston.) At the bedside were his wife, his daughter, Miss Ellen D. Hale, and his son, Charles L. Hale. Two sons, Arthur Hale of Washington and Prof. Edward Everett Hale Jr., of Union College, returned home this evening tomorrow, it is expected, for funeral arrangements for the funeral on Sunday, in the South Congregational church, of which Dr. Hale was the pastor emeritus, will be announced.

On his return from Washington a few days ago it was reported that Dr. Hale was not in good health, but he soon regained his activities and until Tuesday attend meetings and received friends. Last night, however, he showed signs of distress, and rapidly weakening, passed peacefully away in the early hours of the morning.

It seemed today as if the whole country joined in mourning the death of Dr. Hale. Messages expressing sorrow and esteem poured into the Hale household, one of the first being from the president and Mrs. Taft. As an author Dr. Hale's fame rests on his short stories, such as "The Man Without a Country." As an instigator of the social uplift, the work of the two organizations, the Lead a Hand Clubs and the King's Daughters, will always add to his renown, as a minister and pastor, his half century in the pulpit of the South Congregational church and his preaching in many other churches were prolific of wise spiritual inspiration, while as a historian his writings have become authoritative.

It was Dr. Hale who, twenty years before its consummation, proposed a world-wide peace tribunal; it was Dr. Hale who upheld Garrison and Phillips in their anti-slavery work. It was Dr. Hale whose benevolence brought comfort to the sick and wounded soldiers on the battlefields of the Civil war as a member of the Sanitary Commission and it was Dr. Hale who gave to the world the famous stanza:

"Look up, and not down;
Look forward, not back.
Look out, and not in;
Lend a hand."

Women Who Are Envyed.

Those attractive women who are lovely in face form and temper are the envy of many, who might like them. A weak, sickly woman will be nervous and irritable. Constipation or Kidney poisons show in pimples, blotches, skin eruptions and a wretched complexion. For all such, Electric Bitters work wonders. They regulate Stomach, Liver and Kidneys, purify the blood; give strong nerves, in, lovely complexion. Many charming women owe their health and beauty to them. 50c at G. M. Ramsey's drug store.

SHRINERS' TEMPLE "ARRRESTED."

Haled Before Police Judge of Louisville, Who Assesses Heavy
"Penalty."

Louisville Ky. June 10.—Not the least conspicuous of the gaily garb-ed nobles of the Mystic Shrine who are holding their thirty-fifth annual session in this city has been the famous Lula Temple of Philadelphia.
Most of the temples have done hazardous things and frolicked in ways that would have rattled the brain of the most ingenious college boy, but Lula managed to get arrested in a body vestibular and is speedily released.

Under the leadership of Dr. A.
Howard Thomas Lula in nativity white uniforms marched in police court at adjournment time and began playing the Old Kentucky Home in a way to hit the roof of the venerable city hall. Judge Wheeler McGee sat up sharply and then seeing who the offenders were he had them all arrested. They were led before his honor
who said:

I find you guilty and condemn you to imprisonment in the heart of Louisville and in the dungeon of our affections forever.

Lula declared from hoarseness horns and fies that Judge McGee was a jolly good fellow departed confusedly uplifted.

BANKER PREDICTS A GOOD BUSINESS YEAR

TWO FINANCIAL EXTREMES HAVE PREVAILED IN EIGH- TEEN MONTHS.

Good Prices for Farm Products and Good Wages for Labor Is Assured.

Guthrie Ok. June 10.—That financial conditions are conducive to a good business year is the opinion of Robert Schlegel, cashier of the Guthrie National Bank in a statement on banking matters issued locally yesterday. During the last eighteen months he says, the situation has passed from one extreme to another.
While in January 1908 currency was scarce forcing institutions to resort to issuance of script within the year the supply has increased until a plethora of unemployed capital is found in every monetary center.

As the interest rate always depends upon the supply of available money, Mr. Schlegel says, the interest rate has gone to the lowest point during recent years and yet even with this low interest rate the banks are carrying large quantities of currency in their vaults and on deposit in reserve banks.

What is true of the country at large is also applicable to the institutions of the Southwest. Mr. Schlegel continues.

The healthy men between the two extremes which have existed in the monetary market is now being awaited by all people who are interested in the welfare of the country. An adjustment of monetary affairs is being earnestly sought by all business and banking interests. Congress has appointed a monetary commission which is working zealously on the situation. It is collecting data from various sources in order to reach a conclusion as to the proper legislation which should be passed.
The influence of this commission is being felt everywhere. All financial legislation is being referred to it.
An example of the commission's activity occurred when on the 28th day of April 1909 reports were called for by the Controller of the Currency and the State Banking Department of every state in the union.
This meant that for the first time in the history of the United States every bank and trust company made sworn statements on the same day.

The prospect of an abundant harvest is also having its influence upon the financial situation. The effects of winter killing which is the largest element of determining the volume of the agricultural products of the country are known at the present time. The experience of bankers throughout the country during the past year affords the assurance that August will bring a large demand for ready funds in order to move the crop now maturing in the fields of the great West and South. This demand will continue strong until the 1st of January at least and in anticipation of this demand the money market is growing stronger and more certain.

When all things are carefully weighed in connection with the financial situation there is every prospect of a prompt return to the good times which this country has and
with the exception of the recent depression for the last twelve years.
There is every prospect of unusually good prices for farm products and fair wages for labor. A disposition is shown on the part of all business men to act upon the optimistic side of the situation and do their part in creating active business conditions.

Sapulpa Okla. June 10.—For the second time in two weeks a gambling room was entered by robbers with drawn revolvers here Tuesday night and $550 in cash was the reward for their labor and nerve.

J. H. Bothwell and Frank Mitchell, well known local characters are alleged to have entered the gambling room of the Buffalo hotel shortly before midnight and bracing the proprietor and his guests with revolvers they compelled all to hand over their money.

Before taking the money they stepped to the bar and treated the housekeeper and then invited the proprietor of the place to treat. He was obliging and ordered up the drinks with pleasure and alacrity.

After leaving the gambling room,
the men mounted horses and made their escape on horseback, but were arrested on a train at Tulsa a few hours later with the greater portion of the stolen money in their possession.

THOROUGHBRED RACE MEET.

The thoroughbred race meeting to last fifteen days will commence next Tuesday June 15 with seven first-class events the most important of which will be the Oklahoma Derby for a purse of $1000. Thirty-nine classy horses have been entered in this race and followers of the turf will have an opportunity of witnessing one of the greatest Derby events pulled off in the southwest.

The meet will be held under the auspices of the Texas Thoroughbred Racing Circuit and this assures the success of the meet. Stalls for more than 300 horses have been assigned.
A new saddling paddock has been built under the grand stand at the State Fair grounds and horsemen declare it one of the most modern seen at any track.

P. A. Brady of St. Louis has been secured as judge while O. W. Boardman of St. Louis will officiate as clerk. Arthur McKnight of Kansas City will officiate as starter and Milt S. Mooney of Houston will be the official programmer. These officials know every inch of the racing game
and under their direction the summer
meet will undoubtedly prove the most successful ever attempted in this state.

One of the features of the first week will be a Hoo Hoo handicap for two year olds of June 19. This race will bring together one of the best fields of two year olds and the race has been arranged especially for Oklahoma Hoo Hoo who will attend in a body on that date. Horses from the tracks at Latonia, Norfolk, Jacksonville, Houston and El Worth are arriving this week and everything is now in readiness for the opening day.

There will be a state wide attendance on June 15th and for this day only tally ho parties will be allowed to witness the races from the centerfield. Nearly all the boxes have been sold for the first day. This will be the greatest turf event ever held in the southwest. Races commence at 3 o'clock P. M. Double track electric car line also asphalt automobile boulevard direct to the grounds.

MUSKOGEE IS FILTHY.

Muskogee Okla. June 10.—State Sanitary Inspector W. J. Jowers of Oklahoma City with headquarters in Shawnee swooped down upon Muskogee Wednesday morning and there is widespread consternation as a result of his visit.

He closed up one local bakery and
putting a lock on its doors stuck the key into his pocket. He has made a partial report on the unsanitary conditions which he found there and which caused him to adopt such drastic measures.

I found the conditions frightful
he said. The restaurants are reeking with filth and swarming with flies.
The city and county jails are in a deplorable condition.

He also reports that a small stream into which refuse is dumped is polluting North Muskogee and is very dangerous to public health. The report has caused a decided sensation.

SHERMAN CONCRETE CO.

THOMAS, PRYOR, GORE

From Oklahoma Baptist Journal

The life of Thos. Pryor Gore, junior Senator from Oklahoma furnishes an unparalleled example of what a man can accomplish if he has courage and sticks to a thing until he gets there. Never before in the history of this country has a life so brilliant been manifested amid such stupendous handicaps and difficulties.

If the story of the blind senator from Oklahoma could serve no other purpose than to illustrate how a brave heart and persistent ambition can overcome even the greatest difficulties in life it would be worth telling.

Loyal to a set purpose maintain the resolution through twenty-five years of bitter struggle caused this poor blind boy to seat in the most distinguished law-making body in the world although he sometimes lived on the verge of starvation nothing could shake his determination to be a Senator—he stuck to it and he got there. His early life was lived in obscurity but he had a high ambition. He could not see the world about him but he had a smelt to win it a perseverance to compel its admiration and support.

The youth that has a set imagination that the world is against him and that his poor start in life has irremediably handicapped him need only to think of the dark prospects which confronted Senator Gore and he will take hold of life with a new grip.

Gore's young life was spent in a country school where his marvelous oratory and sterling intellectual qualities won the admiration and loyalty of his class mates. The shining light in all of the school debates was young Gore.

After he became totally blind which was when he was about eleven years old he used to get his mother and sisters to read to him and he would sit absorbed for hours in the recital of the lives of self-made men and plan his own campaign for recognition in the world of politics.

Although severely handicapped Mr. Gore graduated with flying colors from the law department of the Cumberland University when he was twenty-two years of age. After devoting himself diligently to the study of law at that place for four years he moved to Texas and a few years later to Lawton Oklahoma his present home.

Mr. Gore's rise in the world was rapid and thorough after he struck Oklahoma. He practiced law and served one term in the Territorial senate being recognized by his colleagues while there as a very capable lawyer. He was nominated for the United States Senate in the State primary as an overwhelming plurality and was elected Senator taking his seat December 11, 1907. When Mr. Gore took his seat he was the youngest Senator in Congress being but 37 years old.

Mr. Gore is essentially a man of the people. He is the farmer's friend and during his term in the Senate he has been tireless in his efforts to secure better conditions and laws for the farmers and working men of his State. He is an optimist of the Senate school. He believes there are no insurmountable conditions—however bad or good—that cannot be elevated through the proper application of brain matter. And Senator Gore has been conscientiously applying his gray matter to the uplift of the farmers of his State. And with a view to maintaining or bettering the social status of the office holders in Oklahoma Mr. Gore has steadfastly refused to confirm the nomination of anyone for office in his State whose integrity, moral standing and capability are not absolutely beyond question.

Senator Gore now enjoys ease and comfort in life in contrast to the hard knocks he encountered in his earlier life. He sits in his luxurious office in the magnificent senate building his smooth smiling face radiant with optimism and power.

There is more to be learned from failure than success. He said to the author. Success is so often the result of accident. A fixed and unalterable purpose pursued under all circumstances in season and out of season with no shadow of turning is the best motive power a man can have.

Mr. Gore's fine face assumed a resolute expression which told is much as words as he said.

In my twenty-seven years of darkness I have learned that the dynamics of the human will can overcome any difficulty. I've had to make the minimum of power serve the maximum of weight. A man must aim at a high and splendid mark. The worst he can do is to fail. If he fails it is seven-fifty per cent his fault.

And this philosophy coming from the source it does, carries tremendous power of a mind that is remarkable in its repugnance and inner workings. It is the stored up optimism and soul wanderings of a personality that shut off from the rest of the world and deeded its inherent privileges watered and nurtured itself an deprived in the radiance of its own propulsion.

The life of Senator Gore stands out among those of great men who have persevered and stood by their ambitions through all phases of adversity and his nobleness of purpose and character is best measured by the unequal fight he waged against handicaps.

Many an Ada Household Will Find Them So.

To help the pains and aches of a bad back removed to be entirely free from annoying dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful to tell how this great change can be brought about will give comforting words to hundreds of Ada readers.

E. M. Allen, carpenter, Tenth St. Holdenville Okla. says: "I do not know how to express my gratitude to Doan's Kidney Pills for the relief they have given me. Up to a few months ago I suffered to quite an extent from weak kidneys. My joints became so stiff that I could hardly move about and often I woke at night finding myself in such a stiffened condition that I had to have assistance to turn. There was a dull heavy ache directly over my kidneys and also rheumatic twinges which darted through my body. The kidney secretions passed with a scalding sensation and were very unnatural. After other kidney remedies had failed to have any effect upon my case Doan's Kidney Pills came to my aid. The first few doses relieved me and a short continued use brought about a complete cure."

Campbell Russell Surrenders and Credits His Defeat to The Energy of Ada Citizens.

Guthrie, Ok., June 10.—There will be no referendum on bills passed by the school at Ada, the Girls' Industrial School at Chickasha and a branch of the Oklahoma Preparatory University at Claremore. Senator Campbell Russell of Muskogee County who circulated petitions against the institutions, figured the number of signatures last night and found himself about two thousand short of the required number. He worked forty days and gathered something over ten thousand names. Before leaving for home this morning, Senator Russell announced that he had failed.

BATTLE AGAINST BOOZE IS UNDER WAY

Frisco Gets Extension of Time to Answer Ouster Suit.

Guthrie, Okla., June 10.—A conference between representatives of the railroads in Oklahoma and Attorney General and State Enforcement Attorney Caldwell may be called soon to settle peacefully on a plan by which no more intoxicating liquors will be shipped and delivered by the roads to parties in Oklahoma holding federal licenses to sell liquor.

Caldwell last week sent a list of all persons in Oklahoma who have federal license to sell intoxicating liquors (prima facie evidence of intent to violate the state prohibitory laws) to the railroads and also to the legal departments of the railroads, warning them that they would be enjoined in the United States supreme court from such delivery.

Replies have been received from the Rock Island, Kansas City Southern and other lines, indicating a desire to co-operate with the state in ceasing shipments of liquor to persons who have taken out federal licenses and stating that the whiskey shipment is not a desirable freight anyhow.

Attorney General West has prepared the papers necessary to immediately enjoin the railroads to prevent shipments to owners of federal licenses and also to settle the much disputed question as to when an interstate shipment was ended, but announced today suit would not be filed until fall as the supreme court had adjourned until then.

Attorney General West was today granted an extension of 40 days making a total of 60, for preparing an answer and cross complaint in the suit instituted by the Frisco in the United States circuit courts enjoining Acting Secretary of State Leo Meyer from revoking the Frisco charter. The Frisco was charged with violating the McCalla act forbidding corporations doing business in the state from claiming domicile outside

Memphis, Tenn., June 10.—A frenzied demonstration of welcome by the men in gray for the son of the man who defeated them, marked the final scene of the ninth annual reunion of the United Confederate veterans today. It took place during the parade.

In the reviewing stand stood General Frederick Dent Grant of the United States army. A cavalry division approached and its commanding officer, old and grizzled, peered steadily at General Grant a moment. Then he turned in his saddle and yelled, "Come on, you kids. Has General Grant come to life again in his son?"

Tears in Grant's Eyes.

With one of the old time "rebel yells," the division charged upon the stands and jostled one another for an opportunity to shake the hand of the son of their old time enemy.

From that moment, every gray clad veteran who could reach the stand rushed up to shake hands with General Grant.

The stocky army officers eyes filled with tears and his shoulders shook with emotion and he murmured:

"God bless you all, boys. God bless you."

The reunion ended with the parade. The veterans were clad in rough gray homespun, such as they wore in the sixties, and carried rusty rifles with which they had defended what they believed to be right. It was probably the last big parade in which many of them will participate.

The heat was intense and the commanders of divisions directed that the older and more feeble members of their divisions should drop out, but officers were compelled to report that they could find no men old enough or feeble enough to take advantage of this indulgence.

Bands from all over the south, 25 of them, were interspersed here and there through the parade, and when steps lagged, stirring notes of "Dixie" or "My Maryland," were sufficient to send the veterans' blood coursing as it did fifty years ago.

Everywhere were flags, the stars and stripes, the stars and bars, and tattered battle flags of the states that chose Davis as president.

The commissioners met Monday and have been a busy lot ever since. Besides allowing a whole mountain of bills, they accepted the bridge across Boggy, two miles west of Ahlosa, built by W. B. Crowder. This bridge is in Commissioner Rindard's district. It was voted to build a sixty-foot bridge across Rock Creek, eight miles southwest of Ada in Commissioner Floyd's district. Lumber was ordered from the Butts Lumber Co. of Vanoss with which to build a bridge across Sandy near that point. A 100-foot bridge was ordered built across Blue at the site of the old bridge in Commissioner Short's district.

Are You Interested?

All those citizens interested in the welfare of Ada and her achievements should be in Guthrie next Tuesday, June 15th, as the plans and specifications of the Ada Normal will be agreed upon and the equipment purchased. It is important that the school board here should be alert and push, as much as possible, the plan to purchase the school furniture at once, as it can be used in the south school building this year and transferred to the normal when completed.

THE STATE RESTS THEIR CASE TODAY

After a number of unimportant witnesses had testified, and after Ed Johnson had finished his testimony yesterday, which corresponded verbatim with that given in the case of Dan Scribner, John Scribner, was placed on the stand as a state's witness. The balance of the afternoon was consumed in the taking of his testimony, and the court adjourned to meet at eight o'clock last evening. John Scribner was cool and composed, and answered each and every question with deliberation. His testimony evidenced that he was not thoroughly acquainted with the plot to kill Zeke Putman, but in the matter of dates as to the visits of Dan Scribner and Ed Johnson to his home, and in all minor details in which he was connected from the testimony of Ed Johnson, he corroborated Johnson from start to finish and seemed positive and deliberate in his answers to questions propounded.

The evening session last evening was consumed in the hearing of testimony of corroborative state witnesses, and at nine o'clock this morning Frank Scribner was placed on the stand. He, also, corroborated Johnson's testimony and stated that Johnson and Dan Scribner spent the remainder of the night at his home, as stated by Johnson, leaving there for Stonewall the following morning. After the testimony of one or two unimportant witnesses following Frank Scribner, the state rested their case, being about eleven o'clock this morning.

Mr. J. W. Bolen, for the defense, then made his statement to the jury, outlining what the defense expected to prove. He stated that the testimony in the defense would show that Mack Lee's mother died when Mack was 15 years of age and that his father died when he was 17, that he was the oldest of a family of five children, a native of Oklahoma and a sixteenth Chickasaw Indian by blood. That he had taken charge of the business of his parents, managed it in a successful manner and had conducted himself as a gentleman. That he was well and favorably known in his community, that he had never been involved in the courts and that this was the first crime with which he has ever been charged. That Zeke Putman had killed his brother, Clarence Lee, without cause, and, that though this could be proven, Mack Lee had never conspired to take the life of Zeke Putman, but on the other hand had refused to listen to the overtures of Ed Johnson.

He stated that the defense would prove that after Clarence Lee had been shot Ed Johnson and other associates were repelled from visiting him at the point of a gun in the hands of Putman. That Johnson had stated to Mack Lee and John Sulzer that Putman had murdered Clarence Lee in cold blood and himself should be murdered. He stated also that the defense would prove that Ed Johnson had made a proposition to Mack Lee agreeing to kill Putman and that Lee had refused point blank to consider his proposition. He further stated that the evidence would show that Johnson never paid the visits to the home of Mack Lee which he claimed he did and that on more than one occasion Lee was away from home at the time Johnson alleges that he visited him.

Mr. Bolen stated that the defense would prove that Mack Lee met Zeke Putman in a drug store at Allen after the killing of Clarence Lee, that Putman asked Lee if he would talk with him and that Lee stated that he would. They retired behind the prescription case and conversed for half an hour. Lee was armed, so the attorney stated, and could have killed Putman at that time but did not desire to do so. Defendant told

Putman, on the other hand, that he only wanted to know the truth relative to the killing of his brother, whereupon Putman responded that he had rather wait and tell the facts on the witness stand. Lee informed him that he had employed two firms of lawyers to prosecute the case, and the attorneys state that they can prove he did, having agreed to pay one firm $600 to prosecute Putman for the killing of his brother.

The defense alleges that the state has failed to connect Lee with the case in such manner as to secure a conviction and claim that they can prove their ground Testimony on which they rely to do this is being taken this afternoon.

Before noon today some fifteen or twenty-character witnesses were introduced in behalf of the defendant. They all testified that they knew Lee and that his reputation as a law-abiding citizen in his community was good.

Hard times follow good times with unvarying regularity and certainty;
this is in perfect accordance with
the rule of compensation.
In good times we should prepare
ourselves, so that when hard times
come we may find ourselves able to go through the troublous times.
If prosperity ran on unchecked, the
ordinary, well-established business
would soon be a thing of the past,
work.
When the manufacturer has his hills paid and finds a surplus in the bank, that surplus is likely to be turned into speculation. When everyone speculates values rise, and continues to rise until prices reach fictitious altitudes, and then comes about
the cashing in. It so happens that
the cashing in is a general movement
quickly follow.
The successful business man should keep his money where it is get-table, and when hard times come and the prices go away down to low water mark, then he should buy. Later on prosperity will return, as sure as
bought during the hard times will greatly increase in value.
Hard times and prosperity rotate several times in a man's business career.
Hard times are necessary to the
general scheme for with continuous
prosperity business would increase
to such a momentum that there is no telling what the results would be.
In times of prosperity you must
make preparations for the hard times
craft won't sink when the storm of
adversity and hard times breaks
across your ship.

Guthrie, June 10.—Miss De Bernia cette teacher at the Central Normal school at Edmond, resigned her position June 7th. No successor has been appointed, but probably will be at the meeting of the board June 15th.
Hon. E. D. Cameron, State Supt. of
Public Instruction will address the
county normals as follows: Cleveland county June 22nd, at Norman; Choctaw county, June 23rd, at Beswell; Pittsburg county, June 24th, McAlester.
The Texas Building Co. has completed their work on the Langston colored university, and it is under-
ceived by the board. This is one of the best and most complete negro
school buildings in the world.
From everywhere comes the report
that the summer schools have a larger attendance than ever before.
The Edmond school has enrolled
more than six hundred for the summer term.
The laws for building the Ada nor-
months Senator Campbell Russell, of Werner, Okla., has caused to be circulated referendum petitions for the purpose of referring these schools to a vote of the people which in effect would have put off the construction of those referred until after
election called for that purpose.
It appears however the people are
in favor of the immediate construction of these institutions as senator Russell has failed to get even the 14,000 names necessary to call a referendum. He gave up the fight yesterday and informed assistant secretary of state, Leo Meyer, that he was going back to his farm, and
had utterly failed in getting the required number of signatures.

The company asks for the privilege of taking nine cubic feet of wa-

plication is signed by Warren Keen,

der the law of 1905, the secretary of the Board of Agriculture is ex-offi-

file such papers. The law has since been modified so that the state instead of the secretary gets the fees.

BAILEY ACCEPTS
CUMMINS PROPOSAL

AGREED TO TEXAS SENATOR.
Democrats Assert That They Will
Tax.
Washington, June 10.—It is stated
tonight by leading progressive republicans that Senator Bailey has accepted two of the principal fea-
tax amendments, namely, levying a rate of 2 per cent instead of 5 per cent and levying a tax on the dividends of corporations, but excluding from the income tax incomes from
stocks on which the corporation tax
has already been exacted. With this agreement between the Senators who
favor the Bailey amendment and those who favor the Cummins
amendment, the income tax adherents will strive to force a direct vote tomorrow.
The time for voting on the in-
afternoon, but conferences were in progress during the afternoon between democrats and republican supporters of the measure, and Senator Bailey asked unanimous consent to let the matter go over until tomorrow, to which Senator Aldrich assented. The democrats confidently assert that they will be able to
cast the full democratic vote for the
proposition, but the element of uncertainty lies in the republican sup-
tax provision are not claiming a
victory, but rather assert that their
chance of winning is as good as their
chance of losing. Senator Aldrich says that if the question came to a direct vote now the income tax provision would be defeated by a narrow margin. He still insists that that margin would be at least three votes.
It does not follow, however, that
because the income tax vote is set
for tomorrow that the vote will be
squarely for or against adopting an
income tax amendment. In fact, Senator Aldrich refused to agree in advance that the vote which is to be taken shall be squarely on the
question of accepting or rejecting
such an amendment. It is generally believed that he will seek to delay action and gradually shelve the
proposition without fastening upon his party the responsibility of defeating a piece of legislation which appears to have a very wide approval among the people.
In the meantime little has been heard of the Aldrich proposal to substitute for the income tax a tax
on the net earnings of corporations.
A canvass of the Senate does not
bear out Senator Aldrich's positive
assertion that he could muster a majority for the corporation tax, though
the resourcefulness of the Rhode Island senator may yet bring results in that direction if he can state off a vote on the income tax a while longer.

a statement that a trip could now be made around the world in forty-one days, the association ordered a table of schedules for "around the world" traffic to be prepared. The rates will vary from $600 to $800 in Chicago Wednesday, Oct. 13.

BILLS WHICH GO INTO EFFECT TODAY

MOUS TAX FERRET LAW.
Several Minor Labor Laws Are Also
Included in the List.
Among several other state laws
going into effect today is the one
amending the famous tax ferret law
which caused men affected by the
law to the extent of thousands of dollars, to go into their pockets and
subscribe liberally to a fund to be used in a legal fight on its provisions.
Lawyers of Oklahoma City have
expressed the opinion that the
effect of nullifying the original law,
and that back taxes as a conse-
assessments made before statehood.
Over two-thirds of the bills passed by the second Oklahoma legislature become effective tomorrow.
There were 120 bills not carrying
emergency clauses, and which accordingly do not become laws until 90 days after the adjournment of the legislature.
Among the new laws which come
into effect tomorrow are:
The Keyes fish and game law,
which revolutionizes the game laws
of the state. The bill amending the
tax ferret law of the state, so that
no back taxes unpaid before statehood can be collected. The new law
also reduces the compensation of the
tax ferret to 15 per cent of the collection; the Stafford juvenile court
law, which establishes courts for delinquent children in connection with county courts in each county and
providing for appointment of proba-
production tax on coal from 2 to 1-2 per cent, making the tax the same as that on oil.
Among the other laws that take effect now are several important ones
affecting labor; including a law giving laborers in mines a lien on all
property of the mining company for
unpaid wages, requiring railroads to
build sheds at division points for the protection of mechanics working in
the yards during storms, creating an agency, to prohibit payment of wages in scrip or in anything except legal tender of the United States, prohibiting the employment of children in
shops and factories, and amending
the eight-hour law.
Laws affecting education are those
repealing the county high-school law, permitting the establishment of county demonstration farms in each county; appropriating $60,000 for secondary schools of agriculture in the third fourth and fifth supreme court districts, authorizing boards of education to erect two or more school
houses, in the same district requiring the teaching of agriculture, horticulture, stock feeding and domestic science in the schools appropriating $20,000 for a secondary school
of agriculture in the Panhandle district of Oklahoma, establishing a normal school at Ada, school for
school for girls at Claremore, and
To Remove Commissioner.
Lawton, Ok., June 10.—The jury in the case against W. E. McGurran, chairman of the Board of County Commissioners, returned a verdict of guilty upon the charge of the indictment, that of having received a duplicate warrant for $120.
The case was given to the jury at 6 o'clock last evening. At 11:30 o'clock this morning they came into court with their report, signed by nine jurors. The other three refused to concur.
C. M. Myers, the special judge, will prepare a judgment, removing Mr.
McGurran from office. Mr. McGurran's attorneys announce their intention of appealing the case to the Supreme Court.

SENATE CHAPLAIN

AWAY AT HIS HOME.
Men Prominent in All Walks of Life
Send Messages of Condolence.
Boston, Mass., June 10.—The morning light was breaking as Rev. Edward Everett Hale, D.D., chaplain of
the United States Senate, Unitarian divine, philanthropist, author, journalist and lover of peace, breathed his last tonight in his home in Roxbury (Boston.) At the bedside were
his wife, his daughter, Miss Ellen D.
Hale, and his son, Charles L. Hale.
Two sons, Arthur Hale of Washington and Prof. Edward Everett Hale Jr., of Union College, returned home
this evening tomorrow, it is expected, partial arrangements for the funeral on Sunday. In the South Congregation church, of which Dr. Hale was the pastor emeritus, will be announced.
On his return from Washington a few days ago it was reported that
Dr. Hale was not in good health, but he soon regained his activities and
until Tuesday attend meetings and
received friends. Last night, however, he showed signs of distress
and rapidly weakening, passed peacefully away in the early hours of the morning.
It seemed today as if the whole country joined in mourning the death
of Dr. Hale. Messages expressing sorrow and esteem poured into the Hale household, one of the first being
from the president and Mrs. Taft. As an author Dr. Hale's fame rests on his short stories, such as "The Man Without a Country." As an instigator
of the social uplift, the work of the two organizations, the Lend a Hand Clubs and the King's Daughters, will always add to his renown, as a minister and pastor, his half century
in the pulpit of the South Congregational church and his preaching in many other churches were
prolific of wise spiritual inspiration, while as a historian his writings
have become authoritative.
It was Dr. Hale who, twenty years before its consummation, proposed a world-wide peace tribunal; it was
Dr. Hale who upheld Garrison and Phillips in their anti-slavery work, it
was Dr. Hale whose benevolence
brought comfort to the sick and
wounded soldiers on the battlefields
of the Civil war as a member of the Sanitary Commission and it was Dr.
Hale who gave to the world the famous stanza.
"Look up, and not down;
Look forward, not back,
Look out, and not in;
Lend a hand."

SHRINERS' TEMPLE "ARRS. C.D." Hailed Before Police Judge of Louis-
"Penalty."

Louisville, Ky., June 10.—Not the least conspicuous of the gaily garb-ed nobles of the Mystic Shrine, who are holding their thirty-fifth annual
mous Lulu Temple of Philadelphia.

Most of the temples have done large things and frolicked in ways that would have rattled the brain of the most ingenious college boy. But Lulu managed to get arrested in a body vested day and his specialty released.

Under the leadership of Dr. A.
Howard Thomas Lulu in nativ white uniforms marched in police court at adjournment time and began playing Mr. Old Kentucky Home in a way to lift the roof of the venerable city hall. Judge Wheeler McGee sat up sharply and then seeing who the offenders were he had them all arrested. They were led before his honor
who said:

I find you guilty and condemn you to imprisonment in the heat of Louisville and in the dungeon of our affections forever.

Lulu declared from his throne bones and fites that Judge McGee was a jolly good fellow departed carniously uplifted.

BANKER PREDICTS A GOOD BUSINESS YEAR

TWO FINANCIAL EXTREMES HAVE PREVAILED IN HIGH-TEEN MONTHS.

Good Prices for Farm Products and Good Wages for Labor is Assured.

Guthrie, Ok., June 10.—That financial conditions are conducive to a good business year is the opinion of Robert Solberg, cashier of the Guthrie National Bank in a statement on
banking matters issued locally yesterday. During the last eighteen months he says, the situation has passed from one extreme to another.
While in January 1908 currency was
scarce forcing institutions to resort
to issuance of script within the year
the supply has increased until a plthora of unemployed capital is found in every monetary center.

As the interest rate always depends upon the supply of available money Mr. Solberg says the interest rate has gone to the lowest point during recent years and ver-even with this low interest rate the
banks are carrying large quantities of currency in their vaults and on deposit in reserve banks.

What is true of the country at large is also applicable to the institutions of the Southwest. Mr. Solberg continues:

The healthy men between the two extremes which have existed in
the monetary market is now being
awaited by all people who are interested in the welfare of the country. An adjustment of monetary affairs is being earnestly sought by all business and banking interests. Congress has appointed a monetary commission which is working zealously on the situation. It is collecting data from various sources in order to reach a conclusion as to the proper
legislation which should be passed.

being felt everywhere. All financial legislation is being referred to it.
An example of the commission's activity occurred when on the 28th
day of April 1909 reports were called for by the Controller of the Currency and the State Banking Department of every state in the union.

This meant that for the first time in the history of the United States
every bank and trust company made sworn statements on the same day.

The prospect of an abundant harvest is also having its influence upon the financial situation. The effects of winter killing which is the largest element of determining the volume
of the agricultural products of the country are known at the present time. The experience of bankers
throughout the country during the past year affords the assurance that August will bring a large demand for ready funds in order to meet the crop now maturing in the fields of the great West and South. This demand will continue strong until
the 1st of January at least and in anticipation of this demand the money market is growing stronger and
more certain.

When all things are carefully weighed in connection with the financial situation there is every prospect of a prompt return to the good times which this country has and
with the exception of the recent depression for the last twelve years.
There is every prospect of unusually
good prices for farm products and
fair wages for labor. A disposition
is shown on the part of all business men to act upon the optimistic side
of the situation and do their part
in creating active business conditions.

Covered With Guns and Forced to Surrender Their Money.

Sapulpa, Okla., June 10.—For the second time in two weeks a gambling room was entered by robbers
with drawn revolvers here Tuesday night and $50 in cash was the reward for their labor and nerve.

I. H. Bothwell and Frank Mitchell, well known local characters are alleged to have entered the gambling
room of the Buffalo hotel shortly before midnight and bracing the proprietor and his guests with revolvers they compelled all to hand over
their money.

Before taking the money they stepped to the bar and treated the house-and then invited the proprietor of the place to treat. He was obliging and ordered up the drinks with pleasure and alacrity.

After leaving the gambling room,
the men mounted horses and made
their escape on horseback, but were arrested on a train at Tulsa a few hours later with the greater por-
possession.

THOROUGHBRED RACE MEET.

Will Commence at Oklahoma City Next Week and Last Fifteen Days.

The thoroughbred race meeting to
last fifteen days will commence next Tuesday June 15 with seven first-
class events the most important of which will be the Oklahoma Derby for a purse of $1000. Thirty-nine classy horses have been entered in this race and followers of the turf will
have an opportunity of witnessing one of the greatest Derby events pulled off in the southwest.

The meet will be held under the auspices of the Texas Thoroughbred Racing Circuit and this assures the success of the meet. Stalls for more than 300 horses have been assigned.
built under the grand stand at the State Fair grounds and horsemen declare it one of the most modern seen
at any track.

P. A. Brady of St. Louis has been secured as judge while O. W. Board-
clerk. Arthur McKnight of Kansas City will officiate as starter and Milt S. Moore of Houston will be the official programmer. These officials know every inch of the racing game
and under their direction the summer
successful ever attempted in this state.

One of the features of the first week will be a Hoo Hoo handicap
for two year olds of June 19. This race will bring together one of the best fields of two year olds and the
race has been arranged especially
for Oklahoma Hoo Hoo who will attend in a body on that date. Horses
from the tracks at Latonia, Norfolk, Jacksonville, Houston and Ft.
Worth are arriving this week and everything is now in readiness for the opening day.

There will be a state wide attendance on June 15th and for this day
only tally ho parties will be allowed
to witness the races from the centerfield. Nearly all the boxes have been sold for the first day. This will be
the greatest turf event ever held in the southwest. Races commence at 3 o'clock P. M. Double track electric car line also asphalt automobile
boulevard direct to the grounds.

MUSKOGEE IS FILTHY.

So Says the State Sanitary Inspector of Oklahoma.

Sanitary Inspector W. J. Emery of Oklahoma City with headquarters in Shawnee swooped down upon Muskogee Wednesday morning and there is widespread consternation as a result of his visit.

He closed up one local bakery and
putting a lock on its doors stuck the
key into his pocket. He has made a partial report on the unsanitary conditions which he found there and
which caused him to adopt such drastic measures.

I found the conditions frightful
he said. The restaurants are reeking with filth and swarming with flies.
The city and county jails are in a deplorable condition.

He also reports that a small stream
into which refuse is dumped is polluting North Muskogee and is very dangerous to public health. The report has caused a decided sensation.

The Doctor Whose Patients Hang On

By Herbert Kaufman.

Out in China all things are not topsy turvy. Physicians are paid for keeping people well and when their patients fall ill their weekly salary check is stopped. The Chinese judge a medical man not by the number of years he lives, but by the length of time his clients survive.

An advertising medium must be judged in the same way. The fact that it has age to its credit isn't so important as the age of its advertising patronage. Whenever a newspaper continues to display the store talk of the same establishment year after year, it's a pretty sure sign that the merchant has made money out of that newspaper, because no publication can continue to be a losing investment to its customers over a stretch of time without the fact being discovered. And when a newspaper is able to boast of an honor roll of stores that have continued to appear in its pages for a stretch of decades it has proven its superiority as plainly as a mountain peak which rises above its fellows.

Just as a manufacturer is always eager to install his choicest stocks in a store which has earned the respect of the community, just so a retailer should be anxious to insert his name in a newspaper which has earned the respect of its readers. The manufacturer feels that he will receive a square deal from a store which has age to its credit. He can expect as much from a newspaper which is a credit to its age!

The newspaper which outlives the rest does so because it was best fitted to—it had to earn the confidence of its readers—and keep it. It had to be a better newspaper than any other, and better newspapers go to the homes of better buyers. Every bit of its circulation has the element of quality and staying power. And it is the respectable, home-loving element of every community—not the touts and the gamblers—toward which the merchant must look for his business vertebrae—he cannot find buyers unless he uses the newspaper that enters their homes. And when he does enter their homes he must not confuse the sheet that comes in the back gate with the newspaper that is delivered at the front door.

From Oklahoma Baptist Journal
The life of Thos Pryor Gore, Jun. 10: Senator from Oklahoma furnishes an unparalleled example of what a man can accomplish if he has courage and sticks to a thing until he gets there. Never before in the history of this country has a life so brilliant, been manifested amid such stupendous handicaps and difficulties.
If the story of the blind senator from Oklahoma could serve no other purpose than to illustrate how a brave heart and persistent ambition can overcome even the greatest difficulties in life it would be worth telling.

Loyal to a set purpose maintain the resolution through twenty-five years of bitter struggle raised this poor blind boy to a seat in the most distinguished law-making body in the world although he sometimes lived on the verge of starvation nothing could shake his determination to be a Senator—he stuck to it and he got there. His early life was lived in obscurity but he had a high ambition. He could not see the world about him but he had a smile to win it a perseverance to compel its admiration and support.

The youth that has a set imagination that the world is against him and that his poor start in life has inevitably handicapped him need only to think of the dark prospects which confronted Senator Gore and he will take hold of life with a new grip.

Gore's young life was spent in a country school where his marvelous oratory and sterling intellectual qualities won the admiration and loyalty of his class mates. The shining light in all of the school debates was young Gore.

After he became totally blind which was when he was about eleven years old he used to get his mother and sisters to read to him and he would sit absorbed for hours in the tales of the Lives of Self-made Men and plan his own campaign for recognition in the world of politics.

Although severely handicapped Mr. Gore graduated with flying colors from the law department of the Cumberland University when he was twenty-two years of age. After devoting himself diligently to the study of law at that place for four years he moved to Texas and a few years later to Lawton Oklahoma his present home.

Mr. Gore's rise in the world was rapid and thorough after he struck Oklahoma. He practiced law and served one term in the Territorial senate being recognized by his colleagues while there as a very capable lawyer. He was nominated for the United States Senate in the State primary by an overwhelming plurality and was elected Senator taking his seat December 11, 1907. When Mr. Gore took his seat he was the youngest Senator in Congress being but 37 years old.

Mr. Gore is essentially a man of the people. He is the farmer's friend and during his term in the Senate he has been tireless in his efforts to secure better conditions and laws for the farmers and working men of his State. He is an optimist of the States school. He believes there are no existent conditions—however bad or good—that cannot be elevated through the proper application of brain matter. And Senator Gore has been conscientiously applying his gray matter to the uplift of the farmers of his State. And with a view to maintaining or bettering the social status of the office holders in Oklahoma Mr. Gore has steadfastly refused to confirm the nomination of anyone for office in his state whose integrity, moral standing and capability are not absolutely beyond question.

There's more to be learned from failure than success. He said to the author. Success is so often the result of accident. A fixed and unalterable purpose pursued under all circumstances in season and out of season with no shadow of turning, as the best motive power a man can have.

Mr. Gore's fine face assumed a resolute expression which told as much as words he said.

In my twenty-seven years of darkness I have learned that the dynamics of the human will can overcome any difficulty. I've had to make the minimum of power serve the maximum of weight. A man must aim at a high and splendid mark. The worst he can do is to fail. If he fails it is seven to five per cent his fault.

And this philosophy coming from the source it does, carries tremendous weight. It carries the reasoning power of a mind that is remarkable in its repugnance and inner workings. It is the stored up optimism and soul wanderings of a personality that shut off from the rest of the world and denied its inherent privileges, watered and nurtured itself an abhorred in the radiance of its own propulsion.

Many an Ada Household Will Find Them So.

To have the pains and aches of a

bad back removed to be entirely free from annoying dangerous urinary disorders is enough to make any kidney sufferer grateful to tell how this great change can be brought about will give comforting words to hundreds of Ada readers.

E. V. Allen, carpenter, Tenth St. Holdenville Okla. says: I do not know how to express my gratitude to Doan's Kidney Pills for the relief they have given me. Up to a few months ago I suffered to quite an extent from weak kidneys. My joints became so lame that I could hardly move about and often I woke at night finding myself in such a stiffened condition that I had to have assistance to turn. There was a dull heavy ache directly over my kidneys and also rheumatic twinges which darted through my body. The kidney secretions passed with a scalding sensation and were very unnatural. After other kidney remedies had failed to have any effect upon my case Doan's Kidney Pills came to my aid. The first few doses relieved me and a short continued use brought about a complete cure.
